Leema Martin seeks fair probe into staff's death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Coimbatore

MARTIN Homeopathy Medical College and Hospital Correspondent Leema Rose Martin urged the police to find the reason behind their employee T Palanisamy's death.

In a press release, she also mentioned that her husband Martin had been admitted to a hospital in Kolkatta two days ago and is now receiving treatment for an ailment.

Speaking about Palanisamy's death, she stated in the released that it was only through the FIR filed by Karamadai police they got to know that the Income Tax department officials allegedly pushed him towards committing suicide after their interrogation.

With Palanisamy's family too raising doubts about his death, the police should investigate every angle in the case, she requested. Her hospitalised husband also insisted that the group support Palanisamy's family, she added.

Palanisamy of Urumandampalayam had been working as a cashier at Future Gaming and Hotel Services Private Limited, a constituent of the Martin group controlled by 'Lottery King' Santiago Martin. Palanisamy too was interrogated by I-T officials as part of the investigation on the Martin group.

On March 3, after the investigation, Palanisamy's body was found in a waterbody in Velli-yankadu near Karamadai. Police booked a case against I-T sleuths for abetment of suicide. The man's son has also approached the court, seeking fair investigation into the death.

'AIADMK's fear clear in case against MLAs'

Defeat in bypolls to 22 constituencies the reason for ruling party attempting to disqualify 3 MLAs, says Stalin

DMK President M K Stalin accepts the offer of a vendor at Irugur market on Sunday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Coimbatore

THE government led by Edappadi K Palaniswami is trying to disqualify three more AIADMK MLAs only because it fears facing defeat in the by-election to the 22 constituencies, said DMK President M K Stalin. As yet, the Assembly cannot disqualify the MLAs as he has moved the Supreme Court to prevent such an attempt, he noted.

"After the polling on April 18, AIADMK has realised that DMK would win in all parliamentary and assembly constituencies. Besides, DMK is definitely going to win in the four constituencies — Thiruparankundram, Ottapitaram, Aravakkurichi and Sulur — up for bypolls on May 19. Hence, our party would get a clean majority of

'Justice assured'

Referring the Pollachi sexual abuse case, he alleged that the ruling government with support from the police is supporting the real accused in the case. Once DMK comes to power, all accused in the case will be brought to justice, he assured.

122 seats for forming the government," he predicted.

He pointed out that a Supreme Court judgment laid down that a Speaker cannot decide on disqualification of legislators when a no-confidence motion has been moved against him.

"We have made a stalemate of their bid to disqualify the MLAs; now, even Modi cannot save the Palaniswami government," Stalin added.

He made the statement

while campaigning for DMK's Sulur bypoll candidate Pongalur N Palanisamy in Karumathampatti on Sunday.

While speaking to the public in Somanur, Stalin talked about forming a committee to address the issues of the powerloom sector, if elected to power.

Before the meeting, Stalin had visited the Irugur market and interacted with traders there.

NEET only for states that want it: TNCC's promise

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Coimbatore

THE Congress, if elected to power in the Centre, would hold NEET only in states that want it, said Tamil Nadu Congress Committee (TNCC) President K S Alagiri.

Speaking to reporters at the Coimbatore International Airport, he drew attention to the fact that the AIADMK and PMK -- both parties who had opposed NEET and the former had even passed a resolution against it in the State Assembly -- had allied with the BJP, the party responsible for making NEET mandatory across the country.

Criticising the campaign strategy of BJP's Narendra Modi, Alagiri commented, "Instead of carrying out the campaign on principles and promises, he has been taking political advantage of the Pulwama attack and the death of 40 CRPF personnel. The government should have used a flight to move the personnel from one place to another. Instead, they were made to travel by road. This shows the intelligence failure. However, Modi has decided to face the Lok Sabha election by standing behind the Army."

About the Speaker's decision to disqualify three AIADMK MLAs for their alleged to AMMK, Alagiri claimed that Dhanapal had no power to make such a move. If they were to be disqualified, the State may face elections for three more constituencies, he added.

He also denied claims that 30 DMK MLAs would vote in favour of AIADMK in the no-confidence motion moved by DMK President M K Stalin.

Civil engineer to pay customer ₹38,000 for dismal service

L RAJAGOPAL @ Coimbatore

CONSUMER court ordered for the payment of ₹38,000 as compensation for deficiency in construction service rendered. While ₹13,76,000 was agreed upon to build a two-storey house, and ₹11,22,000 was paid, the builder had managed to complete only the skeletal structure of the house over a period of nearly one year and continued to ask for more money.

The forum's President A P Balachandran and member C Amudham directed civil engineer Armstrong to pay the complainant ₹25,000 as compensation for deficiency in service. He was also ordered to provide ₹10,000 for the mental agony caused and ₹3,000 (with nine per cent interest) towards cost of litigation.

C T Rajagopal of Sundarapuram had entrusted R Balaji (Armstrong's son) with the work — constructing a two-storey house — in 2013. He paid Balaji ₹10,77,000 in several installments; supervisor wages and water charges brought the paid amount up to ₹11,22,000. However, in March 2014, the two-storey house was only a skeletal structure.

It was when Rajagopal refused to pay more money that the Balaji stopped all communication. After a month, he took the help of workers and completed the works at an additional cost of ₹4,00,000. Later, Balaji demanded payment again. When a complaint was registered in Podanur police station, Balaji was asked to get a civil engineer to access the payment due to him. This engineer drew up a report for ₹9.40 lakhs. Given that Rajagopal had already paid over ₹11 lakhs, he filed a case in the consumer court.
