New Delhi: Commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal on Thursday said India can be the hospital as well as the pharmacy of the world, offering quality medical care and facilities to all the countries.

Addressing the Confederation of Indian Industry's 12th MedTech Global Summit via video conferencing, Goyal said the medical devices industry will be at the forefront of bringing technology to India and ensuring the country's rightful place in global trade for equipment and engagement with hospitals. Goyal, who is also the railway minister, said the medical fraternity in India has demonstrated that the country can be a trusted partner when it comes to global engagement and trade. "The medical devices industry laboured and helped us indigenously prepare products required to fight Covid-19," he said. "Our doctors, paramedics and medical fraternity have made the nation proud by serving the common man relentlessly through their commitment to ensure the safety and well-being of India." Goyal said that bringing people together, using data and processing that data can help India further improve its healthcare delivery system and ensure seamless flow of relevant patient information.
